SECT. 1

GROWING WITH THE NEW DECADE

"The future is a convenient place for dreams." — Anatole France

"We are what we are, but know what we may be" — William Shakespear
Hamlet Act IV Verse 43

We are now entering a new decade, the eighties, and a new era, one which we hope will be filled with great expectations and great accomplishments.

We do not know what these times hold for us; we cannot know. However, we look forward to them with sincere optimism and genuine enthusiasm. We will seek a level of prosperity unparalleled by any previous generation.

Within every person lies the potential for greatness, and in the forthcoming years we will try to realize that greatness. We will strive to achieve success because, we are after all, the future of the nation; in fact, the world. Our future will be decided by what we think, want, and do, and how hard we are willing to work to achieve our goals.

We must take the responsibility to get America moving again, and we must remain steadfast in those efforts. In doing this we may be able to rekindle the bright flame that is America's future since we are, after all, the next ruling generation.

Gerald Porrino

They're telling us it's over now:
It's time for us to part-
It's time to break our ties with each
other;
It's time for our new lives to start.

They're telling us to look to the future;
To stop dwelling on things of the past.
But, we know, deep in our hearts,
One thing is destined to last ...

Friendship:
A thing much larger than the sun-
It joined us all together,
And molded our lives into one.

Friendship:
Lasts much longer than a day
And, though years may quickly pass
Our friendship is here to stay.

Now, it's time for us to leave;
But, one day we'll return-
And when it's time for memories,
We'll all recall one word-

Friendship:
The common bond we all once shared-
It eased the pain of growing up,
And made life much easier to bear ...

Friendship ...

"IF" FOR BOYS

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Of being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good nor talk too wise:

If you can dream - and not make dreams your master;
If you can think - and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em with worn-out tools:

If you can make one heap of all your winnings;
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings - nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And - which is more - you'll be a Man, my son!

Rudyard Kipling

"IF" FOR GIRLS

If you can trust yourself though other doubt you
And conquer fears that limit what you dare
So you can freely give to those about you
The skills and talents that are yours to share;
If you can live, not for your pleasure only,
But gladly lend your gentleness and grace
To warm the hearts of those whose lives are lonely
And help to make their world a better place;
If you can balance dreams with practicality
And deal in facts, but never lose ideals,
If you can face the harshness of reality
And find truths that prejudice conceals;
If you can be courageous when defeated
And humble in the face of victory,
Or give your best until a task's completed,
However difficult that task may be;
If you can temper facts with understanding
And seek to gently guide, not control,
And neither be too lax nor too demanding,
But keep in mind the worth of every soul;
If you can strive, not caring who gets credit,
And work at building bridges and not walls,
Or hearing idle slander, just forget it
And never fail to help someone who falls;
If you can give your help without begrudging
The patience, time and effort you impart
Or look at others' weakness without judging
And see, not with your eyes, but with your heart;
If you can take resources that surround you
And use them in the way you feel you should,
You'll be a woman - and all those around you
Will be the richer for your womanhood!

Gale Baker Stanton

CRITIC'S CORNER

The setting is Newark, New Jersey, where East Side High School dominates The scene (even if you're not in attendance.) This pictorial essay features the graduating class of 1980. The title of this endearing tableau is a play on words; the class of "80" breaks the bonds of high school. Breaking away from any given situation is difficult. It is an equally hard task to break away from the security high school so readily offers. Yet, what seems to be an end is in essence a new beginning. The class of "80" will enter upon a fresh start in the game of life. This little known cast will soon become stars with their performances. This flick is highly original entertainment. A triumph PG*
